

Divine Delights

And I will delight myself in thy commandments, which I have loved. (Psalms 119:47)

Maschil of Asaph. Give ear, O my people, to my law: incline your ears to the words of my mouth. I will open my mouth in a parable: I will utter dark sayings of old: Which we have heard and known, and our fathers have told us. We will not hide them from their children, shewing to the generation to come the praises of the LORD, and his strength, and his wonderful works that he hath done. For he established a testimony in Jacob, and appointed a law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers, that they should make them known to their children: That the generation to come might know them, even the children which should be born; who should arise and declare them to their children: That they might set their hope in God, and not forget the works of God, but keep his commandments: And might not be as their fathers, a stubborn and rebellious generation; a generation that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit was not stedfast with God. (Psalms 78:1-8)

We are such forgetful people and our God is such a wonderful God who continually blesses us and shows himself mighty to us. If we make a habit of praising the Lord and making His works known to our children, it will not only positively influence their lives, but the lives of future generations. What a responsibility! We have many stories in our family of the Lord's wonderful works, as I am sure you all do. Here's a recent one... While at a relative's house in Sydney, three cousins were playing with a remote control helicopter and lost a very tiny part in the paddock. They searched for it for over half an hour then gave up. The toy was unusable without the part. Later in the day, Dave went to help them look. He told them how the Lord is interested in our problems and wants to bless us. He then prayed with the children. Within about 10 seconds of finishing praying, they found the part. It is things like this that increase our faith and the faith of our children.

Dear Ladies,

So many times, the Lord delights me with blessings, insights and helps from His Word. As it is always a blessing to hear how others have been blessed by God's Word, I have decided to share these things regularly with the ladies of our church. May you be encouraged and delight in Him also.

Love Heather.
